WOMAN MAY GET COURT POST

Judge Florence E. Allen's Name Mentioned As Among Possible Appointees

By JOE ALEX MORRIS

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, (Copyright 1938 by United Press)—White House visitors disclosed today that President Roosevelt is considering the advisability of appointing a woman to the supreme court to succeed Associate Justice Geo. Sutherland.

The callers emphasized, however, that the mere fact that Mr. Roosevelt had discussed the wisdom of such a precedent-shattering nomination, could not necessarily be taken as an indication that he intended to appoint a woman to the high bench after Sutherland retired Jan. 18.

In fact, the President's conversation was described as giving the impression that solicitor general Stanley Reed was the leading candidate for the post, with Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan, and Frank R. McNinch, chairman of the federal communications commission, coming in for strong consideration.

The name of United States Circuit Judge Florence E. Allen of Cleveland, O., was the one mentioned.

The impression was given that Sen. Sherman Minton, D., Ind., and Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, both of whom have been prominently mentioned, would probably be considered too valuable to the administration in other fields to permit the nomination of either.

War Referendum Opposed By F. R.

Ludlow Measure Is Declared "Incompatible With Our Form Of Government"

WASHINGTON, (UP)—President Roosevelt warned congress today that the Ludlow war referendum would cripple any President in conduct of foreign relations and would lead other nations to believe they can violate American rights with impunity.

The President entered the fight to block the resolution as its backers modified its provisions to gather additional strength and headed for a crucial test of power in the house.

Although admitting sponsors of the measure believe it would be helpful in keeping the United States out of war, Mr. Roosevelt, in a letter to Speaker of the House William B. Bankhead warned it might be a dangerous move.

"I am convinced it would have the opposite effect," he said.

"I must frankly state that I consider that the proposed amendment would be impracticable in its application and incompatible with our representative form of government," he wrote.

SCHOOL BOARD SELECTS READING TEXT FOR EIGHTH GRADES

According to action taken at the recent semi-annual meeting of the County Board of Education, the basic reading text for for eighth grade classes of the county during the balance of the year will be John Greenleaf Whittier's poem "Snow Bound," and eighth grade graduation tests in reading will be on this subject.

A letter was prepared Monday by County School Superintendent E. J. Fitzgerald and is being sent to all schools advising teachers of the board's action.

The tests, it is said, will likely be given in April.

The El Dorado County Teachers' Association has a committee on reading which is preparing recommendations for study and these will be considered by the board at its next semi-annual meeting, in June.

The official car of Sheriff George M. Smith was rather badly damaged Saturday evening in a collision near Angels Camp when Deputy Sheriff Bathurst was returning from a trip to Sonora. The crash was attributed to poor visibility owing to a dense fog. The driver of the other car was a worker at Hetch-Hetchy.

RESCUE—More than 800 passengers and crew were removed without injury when the Dollar lines President Hoover went aground on rocky shoals off the Japanese-owned island of Hoishito, 18 miles from Formosa. Above is a scene of the landing of one of the last boat loads. Later the rescued persons were put on board the President McKinley and taken to Manila. Officials hoped to salvage the $8,000,000 vessel.

PRESIDENT TO ASK FOR PLANES, SUBMARINES AND DESTROYERS IN NEW MESSAGE

Bulk Of New Additions To Defense Budget Will Be Sought For Improving Air And Undersea Forces, Strengthening Light Surface Fleet, Says Washington Report

WASHINGTON, (Copyright 1938 by United Press)—President Roosevelt will ask congress in a special message on national defense this week to approve a huge aircraft building program and construction of more submarines and destroyers instead of more battleships, it was learned today.

Congressional leaders estimated the cost of the program will add between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000 to Roosevelt's billion dollar defense budget. The bulk of the increase will be spent on improving the navy's air and undersea forces and strengthening of the light surface fleet.

The President, in his budget message last week, recommended construction of two super-dreadnaughts in addition to the two on the way now. In tentatively abandoning plans for two more he was said to feel that existing building facilities would be over-taxed.

TRUCKEE GIRL CHOSEN AS WINTER CARNIVAL QUEEN

Anne Gregory of Truckee was crowned queen of the sixth annual winter sports carnival held in Sacramento Memorial auditorium Saturday night under sponsorship of the Sacramento Chamber of commerce.

Second place went to Lois Jones of Sonora.

The queen, in a skating outfit, was said by judges to have the most colorful costume. Miss Jones wore a dark blue gabardine ski suit.

Fifteen representatives of northern California communities participated in the contest for the crown which was placed on Miss Gregory by Ed Pickett, president of the chamber.

Placerville Ski Club's entry was Miss Violet Cearley, who was accompanied by a large number of members of the local club who remained after the contest to enjoy the dancing.

Placerville Ski Club members felt honored that their candidate was one of four of the fifteen entered, who were chosen to speak over a Sacramento radio station concerning the winter sports attractions of their respective home areas. The Truckee, Sonora and Auburn entries were the others so honored.

Mrs. Charles Marsh Is Resting Easily

Mrs. Charles Marsh, wife of our County Recorder, is resting easily at Placerville Sanatorium, under treatment for a hip fracture suffered in a fall twelve days ago.

Mr. Marsh reports that doctors find her condition entirely satisfactory and that the fracture probably will mend properly without having to be set.

Mrs. Marsh is described as being in good spirits and has been having a limited number of visitors.

Assistant Forester A. N. Weber, accompanied by Junior Foresters Bert Parsons and Lowell Thomas, and Oliver Stearns, technical assistant, were in Blair's district Monday morning.

Lower Richfield Station Has New Management

Everett McGee, for the past two years in charge of the Richfield Oil Company service station on lower Main St., concluded his work there on Monday and LeRoy Brown is now in charge of the station. Brown has been associated with Vincent Waldron in the management and operation of the new Richfield station on Main Street opposite the courthouse. Richfield Oil Company products in this county are distributed under the management of Owen Bosquit.

Possession Of Venison Charge Jails Man

R. Wood was arrested over the weekend by Game Warden Al Sears in the Sly Park section and is held on a charge of possession of venison out of season illegally.

According to Americo Sciaroni, Wood also is suspected of the theft of some of his lumber, and a charge of petty theft will be added to the game law violation inquiry.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tuthill, of Cammino, were among callers in the county seat on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Herbert are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son, Donald Clayton, on Saturday. Grandfather Herbert is reported as doing as well as could be expected.

The case of Fred Schenk vs. Hattie Sturgis and Eugene Sturgis has been put on the calendar for hearing January 19 in Superior Court.

Ole Johnson, Stanley Oberg and Harry Ellsworth, arrested by city officers over the week-end on charges of being drunk and disorderly, were found guilty Monday morning before Police Judge Eugene Creed who gave each of them a suspended sentence of a fine of $20, or 15 days in jail.

Bomber Spans U. S. In 11 Hrs.

"Flying Fortress" Costs $200,000, Soars At 25,000 Feet With 15-Ton Load

LANGLEY FIELD, Va., (P)—Army officials today described the 11-hour one minute transcontinental flight of a new Boeing four-engined "flying fortress" at the fastest ever made by a military plane.

Lieut. Col. Robert Olds and six other army fliers set the huge B-17 type down to a perfect landing here yesterday after leaving March Field, Calif., Saturday night (Midnight EST). The plane flew to California in 13 hours 27 minutes earlier in the week.

The bomber which has a top speed of about 250 miles per hour, flew at an altitude of more than 11,000 feet most of the distance.

The bomber's four engines develop 2,800 horsepower. It has a wing-spread of 104 feet, is 70 feet long, and 15 feet high. With a military load of 15 tons it will fly at altitudes up to 25,000 feet. The average cost of a "flying fortress" is $200,000.

MRS. HANNAH A. DONAHUE CALLED SUNDAY AT STOCKTON

A message was received Monday by Maggie Akins announcing the death at Stockton on Sunday of Mrs. Hannah Alderson Donahue, a native of Placerville and during her early life a resident here.

The funeral services will be held on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at Stockton and will be followed by cremation.

A daughter of pioneer parents, Mrs. Donahue moved from Placerville shortly following her marriage to the late George Donahue, and lived for many years at Merced, where her husband was employed by the express company.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Ella Marie Hearn, one sister, Mrs. Ella Ayers, and two brothers, Steve and John Alderson.

FIFTEEN KILLED IN GRADE CROSSING CRASHES

Five Die As Train Plows Through Bus In Central Indiana Town; Three Lose Lives At Los Angeles As Freight Hits Automobile; Operation Fails To Save Unborn Babe

LOS ANGELES, (P)—A Santa Fe freight train struck an automobile and killed three persons at a grade crossing late last night.

The dead: Barney M. Kates, 50, owner of a Los Angeles auto body manufacturing plant; Mrs. Susie Kates, 50, his wife; Charles O. Drake, 52, loan broker. Drake's wife, Mollie, 50, and daughter, Marie, 25, were injured.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (P)—Thirteen persons, including a baby born after the mother's death, were killed in automobile accidents in central Indiana yesterday. Nine persons were injured.

WILLOWS OIL WELL ROARS UNCHECKED

Brisk Land Business Reported As Speculators Debate Chance Of New Production Field

WILLOWS, (P)—Land owners in the vicinity of the Ohio Oil Company's "gasser" well reported a brisk week-end business today as speculators debated the chances of an oil "strike."

First in the upper Sacramento Valley, the well seven miles north of here continued to roar unchecked, releasing gas at the estimated rate of several million cubic feet a day.

The crater caused by the terrific pressure was more than 100 feet in diameter and increasing. Drilling equipment valued at $125,000, including the 160 foot derrick, vanished into the aperture when the well came in at 5,000 feet.

Company officials declined to discuss oil possibilities pending efforts to check the gas flow. Although speculators professed to observe traces of oil, it was pointed out these might have come from the drilling equipment.

Starting next Monday morning, the Placerville Branch of the Bank of America will open daily at ten o'clock instead of at nine o'clock and will close every day except Saturday at 3 o'clock. On Saturday, the hour of closing will be, as it is now, 12 o'clock noon.

This change makes the hours of the bank conform with those of other banks in this section of the state. It also adds an hour to the length of time in which the bank staff must do the work which it is necessary to do to keep up with the flow of commerce in El Dorado County.

While there may be some who suspect that a bank employee is "through for the day" when the bank closes, it is a fact that the real work for the day is only beginning when the bank doors close. The extra hours for "book work" will help the bank staff to keep abreast of the business parade, and it is believed after a careful survey that the window service to patrons may be maintained upon a more efficient basis under the new schedule.

Scarred shins and sore muscles attest to the community's interest in soccer football, which was introduced Sunday afternoon at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr. Memorial Park. While all of the players were admittedly "out of condition," about twenty turned out and formed two ten-man teams which had a lively time. Another session is scheduled for next Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, and it is reported there is a prospect that a soccer league be started. The scarred shins result when the player on one side misses his aim at the ball and kicks the shin of his opponent. Following Sunday's demonstration, we have made application for exclusive concession for shin guards.

The game is played on a field about the size of a football gridiron. The ball, a sphere about eight inches in diameter, is "kicked off" from the approximate middle of the field, with eleven men to a side. Handling the ball is barred, although it may be butted with the head. "Out of bounds" are tossed in and the object of the game is to kick the ball through the opposing goal posts as a "puck" is driven through the goal posts in the game of hockey.

Shiny on your own side!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonetti and friends were county seat visitors Monday morning from near Shingle.

WEATHER

Unsettled tonight and Tuesday; little change in temperature; high, 61, low, 30.

Better Business Du Pont Hope

"Co-Operation, Forbearance" Between Government And Business Is Advocated

WASHINGTON, (P)—Lammot Du Pont, chairman of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Co., today told the senate unemployment investigating committee that his firm plans new construction outlays of $35,000,000 for 1938. He also proposed revision and clarification of the capital gains tax, labor laws and the Robinson-Patman Act.

Despite business recession, Du Pont said, his company is "still looking ahead and hoping for better business" and in line with their hope plans to spend $35,000,000.

Du Pont called for a spirit of forbearance and cooperation between business and government—a view which was seconded by committee chairman James F. Byrnes, D., S. C. Byrnes also supported Du Pont's criticism of the capital gains tax, suggesting that the law should allow deduction of losses.

Du Pont said his firm is "playing ball" with the government and cited the 1938 expansion program as evidence of this attitude.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS ON TAX PROTESTS AT 4 O'CLOCK

Protests of various property holders against the amount of their assessment for city taxes were to be considered by the City Council at a meeting called for four o'clock this afternoon at City Hall.

Some four or five protests had been received by the council and it was decided to hear all protests at the one meeting. The Council hoped to conclude the work by six o'clock.

In addition to the tax matters, it was expected that the Council also would name a successor to Councilman M. E. Raber, resigned. The appointment will be for the balance of the term expiring this Spring.

Supervisor Charles Green was in town Monday morning from Diamond.

THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

Have you seen "America's Cook Book" compiled by the home Institute of the New York Herald Tribune? It consists of 1006 pages and includes just about everything from the Japanese dsh Sukaake to the new Shirley Temple cake. It smacks of a bright new kitchen with stream line effects. It is scientific and up-to-date and we would like to own a copy but somehow it misses fire. It lacks the personal touch. (We like our cook books to have a definite personality behind them.)

Burrowing in our favorite 10c bin the other afternoon, we found a cook book after our own heart. It is "Letters to a Young Housekeeper" by Marie Taylor published in 1892. Marie Taylor was the daughter of the famous German astronomer Hansen and the wife of the well known writer Bayard Taylor who wrote among many other books "El Dorado or the Path of Empire," a book about his travels in the early mining camps of California. Wives of literary men take to writing cook books. You may remember that Jessie Conrad, wife of Joseph Conrad, wrote an excellent one.

As you might expect, this book has a mild literary flavor for Mrs. Taylor had read widely in the lore of cookery but it is never impractical. "If an art," she writes, "cooking is also a study, and my advice would be to make it a study first and an art afterward. This implies that you are not to take what I say or what the cook book tells you according to the letter, but that you will have to catch the spirit of it all, and do as it directs. In this way—the intelligent way—you will become the inventor, the true artist, the benefactor."

Her recipes are gathered from many sources, from Capuchin monasteries, from Carlsbad, Austria, from the cook books of the cerator of "The Three Musketeers," Alexandre Dumas. From an old German cook book of the 16th century she quotes the following about pork—"If a sow were feathered and would fly over the fence, she would be superior to all poultry and all birds of the air." And further, Mrs. Taylor reminds us that in the "Eddas" the book of Norse myths, the heroes in Walhalla are treated by Odlin with meat of wild boar who is the progenitor of the pig. There is a chapter on salad that while it contains none of the gelatin varieties so popular today, has much interesting information on lettuce and all the ramifications of the lettuce family. "Eat cress," an old Greek proverb counsels "and have more wit." Among the cake recipes we found two that are not to be found in "America's Cook Book," a recipe for the old-fashioned Israel cake and one for Jenny Lind.

If in any of our coming reincarnations we are ever to be personality guides like Dorothea Brande and Dale Carnegie, we will advise every woman of a certain age to write a cook book. The cook book will consist not only of recipes but of the associations that recipes cannot—people, places and experiences. Wouldn't the cook books of many of your friends make interesting reading?

We have been dipping into "Pages from an Oxford Diary" by Paul Elmer More who died last year, a student and a scholar whose going impoverished the world. Although our tool kit lacks the philosophic vocabulary, we were able to read this book without effort. We admit we have not always fared so well with other books by Mr. More.

Today when life is encompassed by material flippancy on one side and stoic acceptance on the other, to read that "the moral defeats and victories in this little blaze of light that we call our earthly life may have long enduring and far-reaching consequences for the pilgrim soul" restores a feeling of warmth and sustenance to the searching spirit.

We take the liberty of quoting a passage from "John Inglesant" that Paul Elmer More uses effectively—"Forsake the effort to understand God by thinking or to feel his presence in the aesthetic sense of beauty. Put away your books and your musical instruments and come with me. I will give you charge over the little children of the poor and ignorant to teach them. Your life will be austere and at first barren; but by and by you will acquire a great joy, a light will shine upon you of which you have no conception—and you shall know in fact that of which the books of the learned can give only the name."

In her recent autobiography "The Rest of My Life" Carolyn Wells has much to say about books. She should know something about them having written exactly 170 books herself, and expecting in the rest of her life about which she writes with so much engaging candour, to write many more. As she can afford to collect rare and valuable items she is a little scornful about those who "maul over ragged and dusty volumes in the 10c boxes" but we do not hold it against her.

Carolyn Wells takes her library seriously, especially the problem of purchasing and discard—"assession and recession" she calls it. She has some pertinent things to say about discarding—"There are many ways of discarding. You can give books to friends or enemies, or to Associations, or to poor Southern libraries. But the surest way is to lend them. They never WAYNESBURG, Pa., (UP)—Is Americas' thirst being quenched? That was the question here after a Waynesburg barrel stave mill, which had been in continuous operation the last few years, and another stave mill at nearby Wind Ridge were shut down indefinitely because of an 80,000 stave surplus.

Most of the staves are used in whiskey barrels and wine kegs.

Last year in January, Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind" and Dr. Helser's "An American Doctor's Odyssey" topped the best seller lists. Although still appearing on the lists, this year they have given place to A. J. Cronin's "The Citadel" and Van Loon's "The Arts." "Gone With the Wind" has the eighteenth place in the fiction list. According to book sellers, it is still purchased in New York, Seattle and Berkeley. "An American Doctor's Odyssey" is fifteenth in the non-fiction list, holding its own in the West as shops in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and Cedar Rapids report that it is still in demand.

Daughter Of Pioneer Family At Smith Flat Passes At Sacramento Early Today

Mrs. Venita Holliday Wentworth, a native of Smith Flat and daughter of pioneer El Dorado County parents, passed away early Monday at Sacramento.

Mrs. Wentworth spent her girlhood at Smith Flat and lived most of her life in El Dorado County, being for many years a resident of Placerville where she took an active part in fraternal and club work.

Within recent years she had moved to Sacramento to reside and had visited here from time to time, being always warmly welcomed by her many life-long friends.

She is survived by one brother, John Holliday, of Camino, and by two sons, Theodore Wentworth and Howard Wentworth and her husband, Guy E. Wentworth, in addition to more distant relatives.

Mr. Wentworth was called to Sacramento Monday morning early by the announcement of her passing. The funeral arrangements are not completed at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight E. Douglas were among the visitors in the county seat from Georgetown on Saturday morning.

"DOUBLE WEDDING" ENDS TONIGHT ON SCREEN AT EMPIRE

Mr. and Mrs. Thin Man are back again in another uproarious comedy hit. This time the famous William Powell-Myrna Loy co-starring team makes its appearance in "Double Wedding," an adaptation of the Ferenc Molnar continental stage success, "Great Love." The new picture closes tonight at the Empire Theatre.

With Powell cast as a penniless but devil-may-care artist who lives in a trailer, and Miss Loy as the owner of a fashionable New York gown shop, the laugh-padded new story describes the efforts of the heroine to prevent her younger sister from marrying Powell instead of the man she herself has picked out for her. As may be suspected, in the end Miss Loy falls for the irresistible Mr. Powell herself.

By HENRY McLEMORE

LOS ANGELES, (UP) — A few chips and putts from the L. A. five-grand open tournament, the first of the year: probably to gain a belated revenge for the lickings amateur Bob Jones used to hand them, the 1937 Ryder cup team would like to challenge the 1938 Walker cup squad to a match in May . . . the amateurs would be suckers to accept, because can you imagine the whipping they would take from Sarazen, Guldhall, Shute, Dudley, Revolta, Nelson, Picard, Smith, Manero, and Snead? . . . Study in gameness: the veteran MacDonald Smith, not long out of a sick bed, going around in 35-25. The old Scot swing, so pure that neither time, disease, or anything else can wreck its honeyed rhythm . . . Jimmy Thompson would do well to spend some time on the practice green sinking 18 inch putts. He missed one that length to miss a tie with Johnny Revolta in the recent Miami-Biltmore $10,000 open, and a missed 18 inch on the home green Friday cost him his chance at 64 to lead the field . . .

A letter from Walter Hagen reveals that he is in East Africa, still on the wagon, twenty pounds lighter, and will be back in March after an absence of 14 months to have a try at the national open . . . because he was absent from the tournament last year, Hagen will have to engage in the sectional qualifying rounds . . . it seems a shame
